Testimonies from the Past
as Lessons for the Present - Holocaust and Human Rights Education through Oral History (STAND UP)

Educational Program for Teachers & Educators

BACKGROUND

As we approach the 80th anniversary of the end of the Second World War, the lessons of that era remain as important as ever. In a time marked by rising intolerance and historical distortion, education plays a critical role in preserving the memory of the Holocaust and fostering democratic values. The "STAND UP" project invites educators to engage with authentic testimonies and bring these powerful stories into their classrooms.

"STAND UP" is the result of cooperation between Croatian Education and Development Network for the Evolution of Communication - HERMES (Croatia), CENTROPA (Germany), GENESIS (Bosnia-Herzegovina), Holocaust Center Šabac (Serbia), National Museum of Contemporary History (Slovenia), Subjective Values Foundation (Hungary) and the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum (USHMM), realized through the generous support of the European Union's Citizens, Equality, Rights and Values (CERV) programme.

The United States Holocaust Memorial Museum's Jeff and Toby Herr Oral History Archive is one of the largest and most diverse collections of Holocaust testimonies in the world. The collection contains testimonies from liberators, collaborators, witnesses, and rescuers. The documented oral testimonies of Holocaust survivors from Central and Eastern Europe are currently not widely used in the current teaching about the Holocaust. Therefore, this project aims to create educational materials centered around the oral testimonies gathered by the USHMM from World War II witnesses and Holocaust survivors from Bosnia-Herzegovina, Croatia, Germany, Hungary, Serbia and Slovenia.

ABOUT THE EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

Over the course of the educational program, the selected professors, teachers, educators from Bosnia-Herzegovina, Croatia, Germany, Hungary, Serbia and Slovenia will get familiarized with the USHMM Oral History archives. They will select the individual testimonies and/or topics from the Oral History archive, around which they will then develop classroom-based activities and lesson plans. In the end, the participants will be expected to organize educational activities, using the newly developed content based on the testimonies from the USHMM Oral Archives.
